Proposed Tax On Soft Drinks

In Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The money-hunting Ohio Legislature has received its first new-tax proposal-a penny a bottle on soft drinks, two cents if the bottle is bigger than 12 ounces.

The bill was introduced in the Ohio Senate Monday night by Sen. Julius Petrash (D-Cuyahoga), Petrash is chairman of the Senate Liquor Committee, but don't draw any hasty conclusions. He sponsored virtually the same bill in 1957 when he wasn't chairman.

Two years ago Petrash estimated the pop-tax bill would bring in 10 million dollars a year. It in 10 million dollars a year. It got nowhere in a Republican-controlled legislature.

58 bills and three proposals for constitutional amendments as they met for their third week of work. The bill total stands now at 139 with 61/2 weeks before introduction deadline, March 5. To Lift Ban

Fun With Figures In Columbus

For all we know, Frank Lausche's bookkeeping system, which Gov. DiSalle says would knock former Gov. O'Neill's financial estimates for a loop, was the last word in accounting.

But it could just as easily be true that the O'Neil bookkeeping system, which replaced the Lausche system, was the last word.

It still remains to be seen what system Gov. DiSalle intends to use when he and his new administration's finance director, James Maloon, get down to official procedures.

Though we assume the state auditor's office always uses the same system, because otherwise its comparative statistics wouldn't mean anything, we cannot be too sure of that, the way things are.

And what way are things?

THERE IS a game they play in Columbus called Fun With Figures. They play the same game in Washington, 80 times faster and funnier. The object of the game is to make taxpayers feel ashamed for not supporting government in the style to which public spenders would like to be accustomed

The gamemanship — the technique — is to make the figures about public finance conceal about as much as they reveal, so taxpayers never can be sure who's on first, the legislators can be sure only part of the time and spenders can go about their business

Standard practice is to underestimate income and to overestimate expenditures, in the hope of knocking enough off the latter and picking up enough on the former to make a cushion. This works pretty well, because department heads always ask for more than they expect to get so if they get less they still will have enough to run things in good style, with perhaps a little something to stash away for a rainy day.

We do not say this is right or wrong. We

O'Neill over the former's claim that Ohio is practically broke and the latter's clam that enough money is in sight to pay all the bills and still have six and a half million dollars left over next June 30, we think it's an open-ended argument over bookkeeping systems. We don't know how it

If we did, we'd go to Washington and

One thing we know for certain. If the Di-Salle administration is going to spend more money than the O'Neill administration, it will have to find more income, because by either system of bookkeeping - DiSalle's or O'Neill's - the bottom of Ohio's money barrel is in sight. The only difference is that the DiSalle system says it's already in plain sight; the O'Neill system says it's six and a

Once Over

Columbia has a new idea for cutting down auto accidents. It would ascertain traits of drivers BEFORE they drive, measuring impulsiveness, hostility, emotional stability, thoughtlessness, etc. Job will require psychiatrists and "measurement technique."

This seems to be unnecessary work. All it takes to measure bad drivers is a brief look at traffic in any street. Any driver who is not impulsive hostile, emotional and thoughtless will be a standout.

The minute a human being gets hands on an auto wheel the Dr. Jekyl to Mr. Hyde switch takes place. Hostility develops. Thoughtlessness erupts like a rash. Impulsiveness sweeps like a jungle fever.

Emotional instability comes with the car, the gasoline and the gear shift. The man who kisses babies, opens doors for women and is always a gentleman on foot climbs into an auto and-presto!-he becomes a bully, a Wild Man of Borneo and Chief of Headhunters' Tribe.

Our advice to Columbia psychologists is to take to treetops immediately after indoring any driver as reliable, or even friendly.

They propose to take a group of traffic law violators, measure their attitudes and train them for a time. Then they will check on their driving manners to see which bad traits discovered in the group are most responsible for careless driving. Will the fellow who has a hostile disposition turn cut to be a better driver than the one who is just thoughtless? Will the emotionally unsable driver scare pedestrians less

Republican Revival

By RAYMOND MOLEY

As the Republican National Committee meets in Des Moines this week, its first order of business will be the strengthening of party organizations over the country.

When it gets down to this business, a plan which has been developed for Los Angeles County might well be used as a model for every other big industrial center. For it is in those industrial centers that the Republican party must be revived if it is to survive.

In order to explain this plan, it is necessary to point out, first, that despite the republican disaster in the state of California, the GOP did not do so badly in Los Angeles In the 85th Congress eight of the 12 congressional districts in the county had Republican representatives. In the election only one of these was lost, and that was not too decisive.

THIS RESULT was not a matter of chance. For several years Los Angeles has really had two organizations on the Republican sidethe legally constituted Republican organization with its governing committees and also a privately organized group largely composed of business and professional men and women called the Republican took office. He was just a few days short of 70 when his second term was up. Eisenhower was a little over 62 when he went into the presidency in 1953.

On the day he steps out - Jan. 20, 1961 - he will be 70 years, 3 months and 6 days old, or about 3½ months older than Jackson.

Today Eisenhower is 68 years. 3 months, and 5 days old. Two other presidents - James Buchanan and Harry S. Truman-were still in office at an older age than that. Buchanan was just a month younger than Jackson when he finished: 69 years, 10 months, and 11 days old.

Jackson was 69 years, 11 months and 19 days old. When Truman finished in 1953 he was 68 years, eight months and 12 days old, or five months older than Eisenhower is now.

party officials by seeming to take away prestige and money from the "regulars," a course which ends in failure all around. What it does is to put muscle into the party campaigns by providing trained volunter help for candidates, which results in that indispensable element in party success: Votes.

And now through the Republican Associates there has evolved a plan for action looking toward 1960 and beyond. It is largely the work of Homer M. Preston, a member not only of the Republican party but

IT IS BASED upon three principles: (1) to raise and spend money to build a permanent, efficient party organization; (2) to decentralize organization and activity into the 12 congressional districts in the county, (3) to see that there is close liaison between the party and leaders in the business commun-

It is important to note that Mr. Preston estimates that the entire annual cost of such an organization would be no more than $300,000. This is not an excessive amount for so immense a metropolitan community. In fact, in most campaigns much more is spent in such a large district and much of it is

If the Republican National Committe really wants to do something about bringing out the votes necessary to victory, it should encourage" something like this everywhere. But I use the word "encourage" advisedly. For it cannot impose its will upon the local organizations, nor has it the money for any such setup nationally.

Chief Justice No Longer Member of Bar

Chief Justice Earl Warren has est of all judicial powers; the resigned as a member of the American Bar Association - but how he did it and why is something of a mystery. He says he wrote a letter of resignation in the Autumn of 1957. The association's secretary says no such letter was received. Only when a bill for cur- David Lawrence rent dues was presented to the chief justice did the association learn that he wanted to resign. To clarify the matter, the chief justice now has written a formal letter of resignation but he does not give any reasons.

Rumors have been current here for some time, however, that the chief justice was withdrawing from the American Bar Association. They were heard more often just after the Conference of State Chief Justices adopted last August, by a vote of 36 to 8, a report critical of various decisions of the Supreme Court of the United

The report was submitted by a committee established by the conference at its annual meeting in August 1957 in a resolution "expressing concern" over "recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States."

It had been widely reported that Chief Justice Warren was not only miffed at the 1957 action but was particularly disturbed when a speech criticizing Supreme Court decisions was delivered on Aug. 25, 1953, by Chief Justice John R. Dethmers of Michigan, chairman of the Conference of State Chief

THIS WAS at the annual dinner in honor of the judiciary given by the American Bar Association's section of judicial administration. Besides Chief Justice Warren, Justices Clark and Brennan of the Supreme Court of the United States were present and heard the Michigan chief justice say: "The conference report, so far from attacking the court, expresses only its concern with certain of the decisions. It contains no

ped, by congressional action, of any of its traditional powers. "The power of the court to uphold and preserve human liberty and the rights of the people must not be crippled, curbed or destroyed. The conference report applause for suggestions on the political front that the court be strip-

would have none of this. "It concludes, therefore, in most respectful and temperate terms, and with extreme restraint, to urge upon the court, that, particularly in the field of determining federal and state powers and relationships, it exercise that great-power of judicial self-restraint, by constant recognition and giving effect to the vital difference between what, on the one hand, the Constitution prescribes or permits and that which, on the other, may, from time to time, to the majjority of the court, seem desirable or undesirable and by adhering firmly to its tremendous, strictly judicial powers and eschewing so far as possible the exercise of essentially legislative powers, contenting itself with use of the policy-making role, where at all necessary, with only the utmost care and moderation.

"SUCH IS the general tenor of the report, offered in a spirit of good will and cooperation in the public interest. If, perchance, it should come to the attention of the estemed members of the court, it is our fervent wish and hope that it will be received and considered in like fashion.'

But evidently it wasn't. The comment among members of the Bar around Washington was that not only was Chief Justice Warren annoyed but that so were the other two members of the Supreme Court who were present.

It seems incredible, however, that any members of the federal judiciary-particularly those who are so quick to crack down on the intolerance of School Boards or State Bar Associations when they frown upon teachers or applicants with a Communist backgroundwould be intolerant about speeches or criticisms by fellow members of the legal profession, especially state jurists.

THE REPORT adopted by the Conference of State Chief Justices unfortunatey was not published in full text by those newspapers in the East which usually give considered space to such pronouncehad the widespread reading which ments, so the report itself has not had the widespread reading which it otherwise might have had.

An exchange of letters recently between U.S. Attorney General Rogers and Chief Judge Brune of Maryland's highest court, chairman of the committt which prepared the report, performed a service in drawing attention to the fact that the state chief justices did not mention he desegregaion cases but did call for the exercise of "judicial self-restraint" in many other decisions affecting state and federal relationships.

The wider impact of the State Chief Justices' report has been misrepresented by those who have passed it off as just another argument on the subject of desegregation, when actually the subject, wasn't touched on by the sta chief justices.

The report does, of course, expose the weaknesses and inconsistencies of the U.S. Supreme Court in many recent decisions.

And Away We Go!

By TRUMAN TWILL

Today's text is taken from an incident that happened 150 feet above the ground near Oakland, Calif., when a fly-boy accidentally touched the seat-ejector button in his jet training plane.

Whoosh!

The fly-boy, seat and everything. went straight up. The automatic chute-opener worked flawlessly, and the fly-boy landed on his chops, safe, but astonished. He didn't have enough altitude for parachuting.

But it is not parachuting we want to preach about. It is the idea of being able to touch a button and put yourself somewhere else in a split second. This is an indispensable option for fly-boys in jets. The ejection apparatus whose workability was demonstrated accidentally in California was made in Britain for the protection of aviators. But the British have hold of something bigger than they yet have realized. If a seat-ejector can any seat out of there in nothing It could spew out the passengers of an automobile at the instant of impact in case of a wreck and hang them up safely in nearby trees. It could disperse the occupants of an air liner at the moment of impact, to keep them away from the holocaust that burns up the passengers not already done in by the grinding and twisting of the wreckage. Only those who are

It would be frightening and frequently it would be fatal to be shot into nearby space in the event of an accident. But it would be no more frightening and far less frequently fatal than to be ground up like hamburger or roasted like a chicken.

The damage in wrecks is not done at the moment of impact, but in the seconds and even the minutes after the impact. If there were some way of letting the wreck go on by itself, while the humans who otherwise would be part of it went flying into the air, with or without parachutes, the result couldn't be anything but a ret wain for security.

In all probability, parachutes wouldn't be worth the trouble. They would only be in the way at low-level maneuvers. Besides, they would be psychologically undesirabe. They would remind passengers of what might happen.

It would be far better for it to happen without forewaring, like the accidents happen. No one ever really puts all his thoughts to bear on what could happtn if the automobile he is riding in smacked into another car, or into some other obstacle. If he did, he would turn into a pedestrain. But with an automatic seat ejector that would peel back the top and lob the seat and its occupants into the air at the instant of any impact great enough to spell "ec cident," it would not be necessary to think about it. It would all be over zip, zip, zip. Bang! And away we go! Out of harm's reach.

From what we see in our store and hear in the business, one of the hottest things in photography today is the 35mm camera. Its popularity has been growing steadily for a couple of years and right now i'ts at its peak.

What's the reason? We'd say it was a number of things. First of all the 35mm camera is compact, easy to carry around. So it makes a good traveling companion. Then, too, it uses low-cost 35mm film that gives you as many as 36

Salem Tied For 8th Place In 2nd AP Basketball Poll

Locals Tied With McKinley

Rayen Ranked 17th; United In 3rd Spot

Salem's Quakers jumped up a half-notch today in the Associated Press poll by moving from ninth place into a tie for eighth with Canton McKinley, Each club gained 96 votes. Last week the locals garnered 72 votes. A total of 49 writers voted this week compared to 37 of last week.

Salem's opponent for tonight, Youngstown Rayen, was voted into 17th place with 35 points. Another Youngstown school, Chaney, retained its 12th place spot.

In the Class A circles, United Local dropped from a second place tie into a deadlock for third place. Geneva Spencer and Norwalk St. Paul are in a stalemate for second while the Golden Eagles are deadlocked with Newark Central Catholic for third.

Goshen Union was ranked in a tie for 25th place in Class A.

THE MOST IMPORTANT $200 IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD!

It buys a Buick ESABRE instead...

We hope you'll look into this personally, before you buy a new car. Because the simple fact is that for just about $200 more than the price of the best models of the three leading low-priced cars . . . you can own a Buick LeSabre instead. You can check this any time by comparing the manufacturer's suggested retail prices posted right on the cars in the showrooms.

Not "stripped", but equipped as you want it In the past, you may have run into price comparisons where the higher-priced car had no extra equipment, and the other had lots of it. This is not what we're talking about here. We mean only $200 more for a car fitted out the way you want it. You could pick the LeSabre 2-door hardtop pictured here . . . including Twin-Turbine automatic transmission, radio, heater, white sidewall tires, electric windshield wipers, direction signals. lighter and automatic dome and glove compartment lights. Even with all that our statement will

Furthermore, you'll own a BUICK

You'll have a fine car, with a fine-car ride, a true fine-car feel. You get a quieter, more substantial car. Not only are this year's Buicks the finest Buicks ever built, but they have been judged the "outstanding" cars in their field in a recent poll of car owners.

Plus new economy, high trade-in value

In designing this year's Buicks, the engineers planned to build noticeably better gas mileage into the cars. Reports now in from owners, and careful competitive tests, too, prove they did a very successful job.

Alongside all this, put the good trade-in value which the Buick name and Buick's successful new styling assure . . . and you can see why we say this $200 difference in price is the most important $200 in the automobile world today.
